LifeWave Receives
Official Patent for Theta Nutrition

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 15, 2015—The United States Patent Office has issued an official patent for LifeWave's Theta One and Theta Activate nutritional formulas. This recognition is based on the exclusivity of this “feel it within minutes” breakthrough in the health and wellness industry.

Similar products on the market lack a delivery system to help essential nutrients enter and work in our cells, which means it can be weeks or even months before consumers feel any results. Together, Theta One and Theta Activate shatter that mold. Theta Activate increases the absorption of a synergistic blend of nutrients, by allowing more of them to enter the cells. Once the nutrients enter the cells, Theta Activate speeds up the cell's metabolism, causing the nutrients to work right away.

This issuance of this patent is a rare occurrence in the nutritional supplement industry. It represents a landmark achievement for LifeWave Founder and CEO, David Schmidt, whose track record for developing pioneering products continues to be the backbone of the company's worldwide success. Globally, there are over 100 patent filings in David Schmidt's name.
