

World Cup 2006

Up and coming South Korean Soccer Team players excel with LifeWave patches.

Ahn Jung-hwan scored the winning goal in the 72nd minute Tuesday to give South Korea a 2-1 win over Togo and its first World Cup victory away from home.

Ahn, who also scored the winner against Italy four years ago to send the Koreans into the World Cup semifinals, sent a 25-meter (yard) shot past Togo goalkeeper Kossi Agassa. The win gives South Korea three points in Group G which also includes France and Switzerland.